THE TRUSTEES' BOOKS SHOW IT

There Was a Falling Off In September When Compared With August, and the Amount Was Much Less Than In the Same Month Last Year.

If the money spent by the poor authorities is any indication, times are not as hard in East Liverpool as they were a few months ago.

The township trustees have completed their report for September, and it shows a decided difference from the reports of other months. The amount expended for relief shows $39.74 taken from the township fund, and but $33.18 from the county. For the same month last year the trustees dispensed $120.78 from the county fund, according to the books, and $37.26 of township money. A comparison with August of this year is interesting. During that time $39.50 of county money was used and $91.63 from the township. A comparison of all figures will show retrenchment to a great advantage on the part of the trustees. They expect business to increase as soon as the cold weather appears, but it will not be permitted to reach the point attained last year. When a family is found unable to contribute to its own support and bids fair to become a permanent charge all the members will be sent to the infirmary. If they refuse to obey the order they must seek help in some other direction for the trustees will not keep them.

While the new system has something to do with the decreased expenditure, it is true that there are more people employed than a few months ago, and the demand for charity is not as great as it was last year.

THE FALL TRADE.

It Will Be Good Regardless of the Election.

The New York correspondent of a trade paper sees trade in this way:

"Business, which was so extremely dull during August, has been very satisfactory during September, and goods are moving with more freedom now than at any time during the present year. Orders are being placed generally very cautiously, buyers not trusting political situation, and much depends on the result of the election. Holiday trade promises to be fair, more, however, on account of the low stocks in the jobbers' and dealers' hands, and the full value and attractiveness of the goods offered, than in any change which has taken place in the increased purchasing power of the people. With the money question settled, and protection to our industries again committed to the hands of its friends, increased hope will return, and hopefulness is a large factor in all the transactions of trade. From this until well into December crockery is sure to be more lively."

YELLOW BADGES

Predominated In the Streets of Wheeling Yesterday.

A leading business man of this place was in Wheeling yesterday, and when the task which called him there had been finished he looked around for Bryan sentiment. He could only find one building decorated, but far up town a small flag waved from a saloon. White and yellow ribbons were seen everywhere, but he easily discovered that the majority of people wore the emblem of gold. There were many visitors in the city, and some feeling was manifested. One young man wearing a McKinley badge was assaulted by a pair of silver men in the doorway of a hotel, but struck out right and left with such success that he became confident, and dared the couple to go back into the alley. Bourke Cockran spoke in the opera house, and received a great ovation. Bryan had not reached Wheeling when the Liverpool man left in the evening.

AT THE U. P. CHURCH.

An Enjoyable Evening In Piano and Song Service.

There was a nice audience present at the First U. P. church last night, and those in attendance were repaid in a musical treat. Mr. Charles N. Boyd is a pianist of rare ability, and he is rapidly making friends among music lovers in East Liverpool. He was given a cordial reception last night. Professor Harper was at his best, and he received hearty applause for his splendid rendition of various popular selections. These recitals are becoming quite popular, and we understand that they will be given at stated intervals this fall and winter. Free entertainments are also contemplated by the professor, in order that all who desire to do so may have an opportunity of enjoying them. Mr. Boyd left for his home in Pittsburgh this morning, taking with him the good wishes of those who had the pleasure of listening to his masterly efforts last night.

NO SUBSCRIPTIONS

If the Board Is Compelled to Provide a Room.

A prominent resident of East End is responsible for the statement that parents in that part of the city, who are interested in having their children attend a grammar grade, have about decided to refuse to pay the rent of a room. When the promise was made they decided to help because they believed the founding of the school was optional with the board, but since they learned there was no room at Central building and the board must provide school facilities they will let the board pay the bill. Whether the matter will be presented to the board in that form remains to be seen.

ANOTHER YEAR.

Rev. B. M. Carson Reappointed to the African Methodist.

Rev. B. M. Carson is home from Cleveland, where he attended the annual conference of the African M. E. church for a week. Bishop B. F. Lee was the presiding officer, and the week was one of exceptional enjoyment for the ministers. When the appointments were announced it was found that many changes had been made, and all ministers in the conference, with the exception of seven, would have new charges. Reverend Carson was returned to the charge in this city. There were 75 ministers at the meeting.

SENDING CHILDREN HOME.

Superintendent Sanor Is Taking Every Precaution.

Superintendent Sanor and the teachers are taking every precaution to prevent the diphtheria from spreading, and as soon as any of the children complain of having the sore throat they are sent home. If there are any other members of the family in school, they are also sent home and not permitted to return until the child, so afflicted, has completely recovered. This is the best possible course that could be adopted, and will have a great deal to do with keeping the disease within bounds.

ANNOYED A WOMAN.

A Crowd of Youngsters Who Should Have Been Arrested.

Residents of Calcutta road were indignant yesterday evening because there was no officer in that vicinity to arrest a crowd of young toughs who took great pleasure in annoying an old woman. She was peddling notions from door to door, and the crowd hooted and shouted in a disgraceful manner. When opportunity afforded they attempted to steal her poor stock of wares. The cruelty was continued with such force the women was compelled to leave the neighborhood.

ABUNDANT WATER.

The Coal Fleets Passed the City Last Night.

The river is a dirty looking stream today, and there is much drift. Yesterday afternoon the ferryboat was partially disabled by a log smashing a paddle of the big wheel. There is a stage of 15 feet, and all the packets will be out next week. A number of tows of coal passed last night. The Bedford is due at the wharf this evening for Charleston. The amount of drift is large, and the many logs going south prompts the belief another big boom has broken.

WELLSVILLE'S TREAT.

Superintendent Southworth's Little Ones to Be Remembered.

The children of Fairmont home are each year given a splendid treat by the charitable people of some city in this or Stark county, and Superintendent Southworth has reminded Wellsville that it is now its turn. East Liverpool sent a liberal donation last year. Although the clothing, toys and candies are never sent until Christmas, the interested parties will lose no time in arranging for the donation, and anticipate a liberal offering.

STRETCHING THE STRANDS.

Work Was Commenced In Earnest Today.

The task of stretching the cables for the bridge began this morning, and it is believed the first strand will be safely anchored on this side by tonight. The work is done carefully, and a force of skilled men are employed. It is a difficult operation, and because of the great weight of the wire requires much time. A large crowd watched the operation during the day. A force are hard at work finishing the remaining strands.

PARDON FOR KIRCHNER

The Injured Wife Wants Him Out of the Pen.

HIS HEALTH IS FAST FAILING

A Good Record Since His Incarceration May Help Him to the Longed For Liberty—Prominent Men Have Promised to Lend Their Aid.

John Kirchner, the West End man who shot his wife a few months ago, may not serve his allotted time in the penitentiary.

Kirchner, in a fit of drunken anger, shot his wife in the breast last June, and for a time it was thought she would die. She recovered, however, and attended the sitting of the special grand jury when her husband was indicted. He pleaded guilty to the charge, and Judge Smith sent him to the penitentiary for two years. Soon after becoming a part of the big colony in Columbus his health began to fail, and he has grown steadily worse. Mrs. Kirchner communicated with Warden Coffin, and learned that her husband was rapidly growing worse. He advised her to put forward her best efforts and have him pardoned. She at once consulted her husband's friends, and acting on the promise of a number of leading men to do what they could in his behalf, placed the matter in the hands of Colonel Hill. Kirchner is a veteran of the late war. He was a good husband, his wife claims, except when drinking, and his record in the penitentiary has been perfect. The matter will probably be presented to the board of pardons when next it meets.

STRINGING WIRES.

The Telephone Line to Salineville Will Soon Be Finished.

Manager Gilchrist and a force of 10 men went to Wellsville this morning, and from there began the stretching of wires on the line to Salineville. The poles were placed in position several weeks ago, and the work of completing the line has been unavoidably delayed. From the present until the system is in working order the force will be employed, and the manager expects to open communication between the towns in less than two weeks. Local subscribers will not be charged when they talk to Salineville.

PANIC AT A CIRCUS

Caused Curtis Chandler to Lose His Mind.

LISON, Oct. 2.—[Special].—Curtis C. Chandler, a young man well known in this place, was placed under arrest by Deputy Supple last evening because he is insane, and was lodged in jail until he can be taken to Newburg. Chandler is a son of Charles Chandler who resides west of this place, and was discharged from the asylum two years ago pronounced cured. It is said his unfortunate condition was caused by injuries to his head, received during a panic at Forepaugh's circus in this city several years ago.

MERCER'S POSITION.

The Official Report Gives Him a Good Place.

A list of the averages of the league ball players published this morning places Mercer in one hundred and forty-third place in the batting column. It shows that he participated in 49 games, was at bat 156 times, made 23 runs, and had 37 hits, two sacrifice hits, five stolen bases, with an average of .237. In fielding he is placed in forty-third position among the pitchers, having pitched in 47 games, made 33 putouts, 38 assists, 20 errors and 10 wild pitches, with an average of .801.

ROADS AND BRIDGES

Brought Commissioners Bye and French to Town.

Commissioners Bye and French arrived in the city last evening and remained until this morning. Today they inspected McGrough's hill in Wellsville, and recommended improvements that will prevent future washouts. They also accepted a bridge recently built in St. Clair township, and looked over the work being done on the Wellsville road. Mr. French stated that the greater part of the work ordered by the commissioners this year has been completed.

MAY RESIGN.

Rev. W. E. Sloane Thinks of Leaving the City.

Rev. W. E. Sloane, pastor of the West End Presbyterian chapel, may resign his pastorate and take a position in a northern state. Mrs. Sloane has not enjoyed good health since coming to the city, and it is thought a change of climate will improve her condition. Reverend and Mrs. Sloane have made many friends during their stay here, and general regret will be felt when it is known they contemplate leaving.

DIED IN WHEELING.

Theodore Kober Passed Away This Morning.

Relatives in this city were this morning notified by wire of the death of Theodore Kober at his home in Wheeling. He has been ill for a year, suffering from a complication of diseases, but only in the past few weeks has his condition been dangerous. He was well known here, and as a traveling salesman came to the city for 18 years. Mr. Kober was married to Miss Murphy, a daughter of T. B. Murphy, and that gentleman and his wife have been in Wheeling for some time. Deceased was aged 44 years. The arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made.

TWO SITES

Have Been Suggested For the Proposed Hospital.

An important meeting of the Hospital association will be held this evening at the residence of Mrs. Monroe Patterson on Kossuth street. The principal business will be the discussion of a site for the proposed institution. To the present time two sites have been suggested, the old cemetery and a place on the North side. Each has its friends, and the advantages of the different places will be set forth at the meeting. The ladies are greatly encouraged over the result of the opera house meeting.

CAUGHT A JUMPER.

Detective Nick Schiffer Landed a Prisoner Today.

Detective Nick Schiffer arrested George Pritchard for stealing a ride on the freight train which goes through the city early in the afternoon. He was brought to city hall, and fined $5.00 by Mayor Gilbert. Pritchard had the money, and paid for his freedom. He boarded the train at Wellsville, and was arrested a short distance below this place. The active work done by railroad officers is killing the practice, and several weeks have passed since the last jumper was caught.

HANDICAPPED.

But the Man With One Arm Made Good Time.

Unusual sights are frequently witnessed by people who watch the river, but few have ever been seen which caused more surprise than a happening yesterday afternoon. A man with only one arm was seen rowing a boat toward the island. He would pull hard on one oar, and then pull equally as hard on the other. He made very good progress, and succeeded in reaching his destination in but little more time than would have been consumed by an ordinary rower.

WELL THIS MORNING.

But Now the Daughter of James Dunkerly Has Diphtheria.

The only case of diphtheria reported to the health authorities today comes from a house on East Market street. The afflicted one is Inez, the little daughter of James Dunkerly. The child was well this morning, but became ill before noon, and the physician who was called pronounced the disease diphtheria. The other afflicted ones in the city are recovering, and not one is in a dangerous condition today. A strict quarantine is established at every house.

A PIECE OF SHELL

Almost Killed Mrs. Charles Fowler of Sixth Street.

A small piece of shell lodged in the throat of Mrs. Charles Fowler, of Sixth street, last evening while the lady was eating oysters, and it came near causing her to lose her life. A physician was quickly summoned, but by the time he arrived she had turned black in the face and was gasping for breath. He at once took heroic measures and succeeded in dislodging the shell.

THEIR CHOICE.

Boys Must Go to School or to Lancaster.

Truant Officer Beardmore now has a case on hand that will probably land a 10-year-old boy in the reform school. A few days ago he received word from a lady that she had a child who was incorrigible, and would not go to school. The officer at once served the proper papers in the case, and if the lad does not mend his ways in five days, suit will be instituted.

Business Will Pick Up.

There are fewer cases in the squires' courts at present than have been known since the days of the attorneys' vacation. The squires, however, are expecting business to pick up almost any day, and it is probable they will not be disappointed.

ABE BROWN HELPLESS

His Friends Will Endeavor to Get Him a Pension.

MAY REQUIRE A SPECIAL ACT

But They Trust to Congressman Taylor For Help—The Old Colored Man Can No Longer Care For Himself—He Draws a Small Amount Each Month.

It may require a special act of congress before Abe Brown has a comfortable pension, but his friends in this city have decided to spare no effort to reach the desired end.

Brown is a colored man well known to almost every person in town. He has resided here for many years, and until two years ago worked as hard as his physical condition would allow. He was a Union soldier, and received such injuries in battle as to disable him for many years. After repeated trials he succeeded in obtaining a pension of $12 a month, and with his work was able to get along. A year ago he was stricken by paralysis, and has since that time been very ill. For months it was believed he would not recover, but he eventually got better. Now, however, he is helpless, and must have constant attention. The Grand Army boys have been helping him a great deal, but his case has been placed in the hands of the pension committee, and from that source relief is expected. They are now looking up the required information, and as soon as it is at hand will enlist Hon. R. W. Taylor in their cause. It is expected that a special act will be required to cover the case, and the bill will be introduced as soon as possible after congress convenes. They want a pension sufficient to allow Brown to be well cared for while he lives.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

A Meeting Is Being Held In J. J. Purinton's Office.

The finance committee of council is in session in the office of J. J. Purinton this afternoon. Some important questions are being discussed, and the result of the meeting will likely be seen in council next Tuesday evening. The city has anything but a large amount of money at its command, and the committee will discuss ways and means for the future.

Political Speakers.

The state committee have made no assignments for Republican speakers in this city, but a number are promised before the campaign ends. Should Roswell G. Horr speak here it will not be known until the day of the meeting.

STRINGING WIRES.

The Telephone Line to Salineville Will Soon Be Finished.

Manager Gilchrist and a force of 10 men went to Wellsville this morning, and from there began the stretching of wires on the line to Salineville. The poles were placed in position several weeks ago, and the work of completing the line has been unavoidably delayed. From the present until the system is in working order the force will be employed, and the manager expects to open communication between the towns in less than two weeks. Local subscribers will not be charged when they talk to Salineville.

PANIC AT A CIRCUS

Caused Curtis Chandler to Lose His Mind.

LISON, Oct. 2.—[Special]—Curtis C. Chandler, a young man well known in this place, was placed under arrest by Deputy Supplee last evening because he is insane, and was lodged in jail until he can be taken to Newburg. Chandler is a son of Charles Chandler who resides west of this place, and was discharged from the asylum two years ago pronounced cured. It is said his unfortunate condition was caused by injuries to his head, received during a panic at Forepaugh's circus in this city several years ago.

MERCER'S POSITION.

The Official Report Gives Him a Good Place.

A list of the averages of the league ball players published this morning places Mercer in one hundred and forty-third place in the batting column. It shows that he participated in 49 games, was at bat 156 times, made 23 runs, and had 37 hits, two sacrifice hits, five stolen bases, with an average of .237. In fielding he is placed in forty-third position among the pitchers, having pitched in 47 games, made 33 putouts, 88 assists, 20 errors and 10 wild pitches, with an average of .801.

ROADS AND BRIDGES

Brought Commissioners Bye and French to Town.

Commissioners Bye and French arrived in the city last evening and remained until this morning. Today they inspected McGrough's hill in Wellsville, and recommended improvements that will prevent future washouts. They also accepted a bridge recently built in St. Clair township, and looked over the work being done on the Wellsville road. Mr. French stated that the greater part of the work ordered by the commissioners this year has been completed.

MAY RESIGN.

Rev. W. E. Sloane Thinks of Leaving the City.

Rev. W. E. Sloane, pastor of the West End Presbyterian chapel, may resign his pastorate and take a position in a northern state. Mrs. Sloane has not enjoyed good health since coming to the city, and it is thought a change of climate will improve her condition. Reverend and Mrs. Sloane have made many friends during their stay here, and general regret will be felt when it is known they contemplate leaving.

DIED IN WHEELING.

Theodore Kober Passed Away This Morning.

Relatives in this city were this morning notified by wire of the death of Theodore Kober at his home in Wheeling. He has been ill for a year, suffering from a complication of diseases, but only in the past few weeks has his condition been dangerous. He was well known here, and as a traveling salesman came to the city for 18 years. Mr. Kober was married to Miss Murphy, a daughter of T. B. Murphy, and that gentleman and his wife have been in Wheeling for some time. Deceased was aged 44 years. The arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made.

TWO SITES

Have Been Suggested For the Proposed Hospital.

An important meeting of the Hospital association will be held this evening at the residence of Mrs. Monroe Patterson on Kossuth street. The principal business will be the discussion of a site for the proposed institution. To the present time two sites have been suggested, the old cemetery and a place on the North side. Each has its friends, and the advantages of the different places will be set forth at the meeting. The ladies are greatly encouraged over the result of the opera house meeting.

CAUGHT A JUMPER.

Detective Nick Schiffer Landed a Prisoner Today.

Detective Nick Schiffer arrested George Pritchard for stealing a ride on the freight train which goes through the city early in the afternoon. He was brought to city hall, and fined $6.00 by Mayor Gilbert. Pritchard had the money, and paid for his freedom. He boarded the train at Wellsville, and was arrested a short distance below this place. The active work done by railroad officers is killing the practice, and several weeks have passed since the last jumper was caught.

HANDICAPPED.

But the Man With One Arm Made Good Time.

Unusual sights are frequently witnessed by people who watch the river, but few have ever been seen which caused more surprise than a happening yesterday afternoon. A man with only one arm was seen rowing a boat toward the island. He would pull hard on one oar, and then pull equally as hard on the other. He made very good progress, and succeeded in reaching his destination in but little more time than would have been consumed by an ordinary rower.

WELL THIS MORNING.

But Now the Daughter of James Dunkerly Has Diphtheria.

The only case of diphtheria reported to the health authorities today comes from a house on East Market street. The afflicted one is Inez, the little daughter of James Dunkerly. The child was well this morning, but became ill before noon, and the physician who was called pronounced the disease diphtheria. The other afflicted ones in the city are recovering, and not one is in a dangerous condition today. A strict quarantine is established at every house.

A PIECE OF SHELL

Almost Killed Mrs. Charles Fowler of Sixth Street.

A small piece of shell lodged in the throat of Mrs. Charles Fowler, of Sixth street, last evening while the lady was eating oysters, and it came near causing her to lose her life. A physician was quickly summoned, but by the time he arrived she had turned black in the face and was gasping for breath. He at once took heroic measures and succeeded in dislodging the shell.

THEIR CHOICE.

Boys Must Go to School or to Lancaster.

Truant Officer Beardmore now has a case on hand that will probably land a 10-year-old boy in the reform school. A few days ago he received word from a lady that she had a child who was incorrigible, and would not go to school. The officer at once served the proper papers in the case, and if the lad does not mend his ways in five days, suit will be instituted.

Business Will Pick Up.

There are fewer cases in the squires' courts at present than have been known since the days of the attorneys' vacation. The squires, however, are expecting business to pick up almost any day, and it is probable they will not be disappointed.

ABE BROWN HELPLESS

His Friends Will Endeavor to Get Him a Pension.

MAY REQUIRE A SPECIAL ACT

But They Trust to Congressman Taylor For Help—The Old Colored Man Can No Longer Care For Himself—He Draws a Small Amount Each Month.

It may require a special act of congress before Abe Brown has a comfortable pension, but his friends in this city have decided to spare no effort to reach the desired end.

Brown is a colored man well known to almost every person in town. He has resided here for many years, and until two years ago worked as hard as his physical condition would allow. He was a Union soldier, and received such injuries in battle as to disable him for many years.

After repeated trials he succeeded in obtaining a pension of $12 a month, and with his work was able to get along. A year ago he was stricken by paralysis, and has since that time been very ill. For months it was believed he would not recover, but he eventually got better. Now, however, he is helpless, and must have constant attention. The Grand Army boys have been helping him a great deal, but his case has been placed in the hands of the pension committee, and from that source relief is expected. They are now looking up the required information, and as soon as it is at hand will enlist Hon. R. W. Taylor in their cause. It is expected that a special act will be required to cover the case, and the bill will be introduced as soon as possible after congress convenes. They want a pension sufficient to allow Brown to be well cared for while he lives.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

A Meeting Is Being Held In J. J. Purinton's Office.

The finance committee of council is in session in the office of J. J. Purinton this afternoon. Some important questions are being discussed, and the result of the meeting will likely be seen in council next Tuesday evening. The city has anything but a large amount of money at its command, and the committee will discuss ways and means for the future.

Political Speakers.

The state committee have made no assignments for Republican speakers in this city, but a number are promised before the campaign ends. Should Roswell G. Horr speak here it will not be known until the day of the meeting.

First of the Season.

The first football accident of the season occurred at West End park last evening. The Eclipse boys were practicing when Tom McClure slipped in the mud and fell. He severely wrenched his knee.

They are having storms in Nebraska, but these storms are not a marker to the storm of ballots that will envelop and destroy a leading resident of that state early in November.

DEMOCRATIC papers should compare notes before publishing estimates of Bryan's crowds. The Wheeling papers say he spoke to 10,000 people in that city yesterday, and the Pittsburgh Post announces the number as 40,000.

ALL the indications point to a triumph for the whole Democratic ticket in this country. The masses of the people are aroused as they never were before.—Lisbon Patriot.

The little chestnut of the Little Beaver is whistling to keep his courage up.

THE NEWS REVIEW owes its readers an apology. In the rush and hurry of making up the forms last evening two articles were placed under the wrong heads. Many there were who read of the danger at the West End culvert in the head, and found themselves learning of the pumps at the water station being at a standstill before they had gone far into the article. Mistakes will occur, but one similar to this will not occur again.

MAJOR MCKINLEY has fallen into the habit of saying just what he means in very few words. "We propose in this contest to protect our money from debasement, and with the same votes to protect our industries from foreign competition," is the way he put it to a big crowd of admirers yesterday. How much better than the beautiful nothing Mr. Bryan gave his hearers in Wheeling.

PER CAPITA CIRCULATION.
When a Bryanite has exhausted every other argument, and knows not where to turn for words to meet his gold opponent he will invariably declare we must have more money, the per capita circulation in this country is not enough to carry on our business. Let us see.
The per capita circulation of the United States is at present $21.10, just $15.55 more than the per capita circulation of the world. It is $3.19 more than the per capita circulation of countries on a gold basis, and a little over $16.80 more than the per capita of silver countries. Gold is not in use in those countries using the silver standard, yet their per capita circulation of silver is but $2.32, the remainder of their money being paper.
The money used in this country at present is good money, a money which is worth as much to the laborer as it is to the millionaire. More of it would be received with delight, but we want no cheap money, a money not worth the same at all times and in all places.

PUGNACIOUS BISMARCK.

How He Almost Precipitated a Second Conflict With France.

The rapidity with which France was repairing the disasters of the war and the ease with which she met the financial obligations it imposed on her astonished Europe and perturbed the statesmen at Berlin. Her military force was being judiciously reconstructed, and it seemed also as if the calculation of Prince Bismarck as regards the constitution of her internal government might be falsified. The German chancellor desired to see established what a Russian diplomatist happily described as a republic dissolvante.

Notwithstanding his efforts to bring this result about and the impracticable character of the Comte de Chambord, which rendered the restoration of monarchy for a time impossible, there were indications that a stable system of government would be founded which would enable France to recover a strong position in the community of nations. Prince Bismarck was resolved this should not be, and suddenly, in May, 1875, Prince Bismarck, the present chancellor of the German empire, who was then ambassador in Paris, appeared at the French foreign office and asked for explanations regarding the scheme for the reconstruction of the French army. The Duc de Broglie, in his interesting account of the embassy of M. de Gontaut-Biron to Berlin, describes the consternation which followed this attempt to provoke another quarrel with France. Another war seemed inevitable. England and Russia interfered to prevent it. Prince Bismarck could easily have disregarded the remonstrances of both.

A Nation of Medicine Takers.

It is an accepted fact that the American people are the greatest users of medicines of one sort or another on the face of the earth. Imaginary ills make up a large part of man's earthly troubles. Some people need only to read the vivid description of some chronic disease, and they are at once victims to the complaint in question. Many patent medicine venders make use of this peculiarity and lead some people to believe that their tired feeling comes from their blood not being rich and red. Millions would be saved and our general health would be better if we would take medicine only when really needed and then get a remedy specially prepared for the disease with which we are suffering.
As an illustration, when you have sore throat, there can't be any imagination about it. Your throat hurts; probably is covered with white ulcerated spots, and you know you need a remedy. Use good judgment. Get a cure put up for this one purpose. There is such a remedy. Tonsiline is its name, and it is a wonder in its field. Being put up for this one class of diseases, it cures quickly, surely, and many times as if by magic. No family can afford to be without Tonsiline in the home, as it is a certain cure for Sore Throat, Sore Mouth, Croup and Quinsy. Ask your neighbors who have used it. All druggists sell Tonsiline. 25 and 50 cents.

England would certainly not take up arms if he paid no attention to her representations, and Russia would have thought twice before incurring the hostility of Germany in view of coming events in the Balkan peninsula.
The fact, though not generally known, is that the greatest influence in preventing war was that of the Grand Duke of Baden. While the relations with France were becoming complicated the Emperor William happened to be staying at the Meinan, the seat of the Grand Duke of Baden, on the Lake of Constance. One morning the grand duchess, who was the emperor's daughter, came into her father's study and showed him a number of extracts from the press. He perceived at once that the country was drifting into war, and after a consultation with his son-in-law, who was strongly opposed to provoking a war, which, however successful for the moment, would have been most disastrous to the name and character of Germany, the aged monarch went off that very evening to Berlin, and Prince Bismarck had to beat a retreat.—Quarterly Review.

Cheap Money Very Dear.

In his speech to the delegation of colored citizens from Cleveland, Major McKinley uttered another of those pithy, pointed and briefly put truths for which he is fast becoming famous when he said:

"We have a great country, and we must keep it. We want neither cheap money nor cheap labor. Nothing can be cheap that injures our laboring people."

The nickel cent was authorized Feb. 21, 1857, and its coinage was begun the same year.

ONLY A FEW

Of the Many Democrats Who Oppose Bryan

AND HIS CAUSE OF DISHONOR.

Some of the Men Who Will Not Follow His Flag of Repudiation and Anarchy, Though They Have Long Been Prominent in the Councils of the Democratic Party—Men Whose Opinions Are Worthy of Respect.

To publish a list of all the prominent Democrats who refuse to support Bryan would require many columns of a newspaper. It would be a roll-call of half the men who have won fame and power in the service of the Democratic party, and an account of their work in politics would be nearly a history of the Democratic side of American public affairs for the last 25 years.

It is worth while to call attention to a few of the Democrats who have refused to follow the majority of the Chicago convention into the devious ways of dishonor and ruin. Their party services can be imagined from the offices which they have held or which they are holding now. Among the most notable of the men who deny that Bryanism is Democracy and silently or actively repudiate and antagonize the Bryanese ticket and platform are the following famous Democrats:

- Grover Cleveland, president of the United States, New York.
- John G. Carlisle, secretary of the treasury, Kentucky.
- Richard Olney, secretary of state, Massachusetts.
- William A. Herbert, secretary of the navy, Alabama.
- John Sterling Morton, secretary of agriculture, Nebraska.
- Daniel S. Lamont, secretary of war, New York.
- Judson Harmon, attorney general, Ohio.
- William L. Wilson, postmaster general, West Virginia.
- David R. Francis, secretary of the interior, Missouri.
- John M. Palmer, United States senator, Illinois.
- William F. Vilas, United States senator, Wisconsin.
- John B. Gordon, United States senator, Georgia.
- David B. Hill, United States senator, New York.
- James Smith, Jr., United States senator, New Jersey.
- George Gray, United States senator, Delaware.
- William Lindsay, United States senator, Kentucky.
- Dan Clough, United States senator, Louisiana.
- Calvin S. Brice, U. S. senator, Ohio.
- Harry W. Bush, M. C., Maryland.
- John C. Cowen, M. C., Maryland.
- Franklin Bartlett, M. C., New York.
- George B. McClellan, M. C., New York.
- John Patterson, M. C., Tennessee.
- Thomas F. Bayard, ambassador to England, Delaware.
- Wayne McVeagh, ambassador to Italy, Pennsylvania.
- William E. Quinsy, minister to the Netherlands, Michigan.
- Edward J. Phelps, ex-minister to Great Britain, Vermont.
- Roswell P. Flower, ex-governor of New York.
- William F. Sheehan, ex-lieutenant governor of New York.
- Robert E. Pattison, ex-governor of Pennsylvania.
- James E. Campbell, ex-governor of Ohio.
- Andrew D. White, ex-minister to Germany and ex-president of Cornell university, New York.
- Charles W. Eliot, president Harvard university, Massachusetts.
- John C. Black, ex-member of congress, Illinois.
- John P. Hopkins, ex-mayor of Chicago.
- Washington Hising, postmaster of Chicago.
- William D. Bynum, ex-member of congress, Indiana.
- Don M. Dickinson, ex-postmaster general, Michigan.
- Thomas M. Waller, ex-governor of Connecticut.
- James O. Broadhead, ex-member of congress, Missouri.
- Joseph H. Outhwaite and George C. Converse, ex-members of congress, Ohio.
- Jacob Mueller, ex-lieutenant governor, Ohio.
- George Hooley, ex-governor of Ohio, New York.
- Oswald Ottendorfer, editor New York Staats Zeitung.
- Henry Watterson, editor Louisville Courier-Journal.
- Virgil P. Kline of Cleveland.
- Alexander K. McClure, editor Philadelphia Times.
- Carl Schurz, editor Harper's Weekly.
- Charles E. Taylor, editor Boston Globe.
- William A. Lynch, prominent railroad man, Canton, O.
- William C. Whitney, ex-secretary of the navy, New York.
- M. G. Butler, ex-United States senator, South Carolina.
- James Longstreet, ex-minister to Turkey, Georgia.
- General Daniel E. Sickles, New York.
- W. Bourke Cockran, ex-member of congress, New York.

This list is the merest beginning. It does not touch the vast array of Democrats in all parts of the country who oppose the Popocratic candidate and his platform.

Artifice is weak. It is the work of mere man, in the imbecility and self-distrust of his mimic understanding.

HE IS DEAD WRONG.

Freight Rates Upon the Railroads Have Greatly Declined.

Mr. Bryan's statement in Madison Square garden that the rates of transportation on the railroads since 1873 had not declined as much as the value of the products they carry has evoked another convincing denial from Mr. Henry W. Poor, the widely known statistician. In proof of Mr. Bryan's gross inaccuracy Mr. Poor submits a tabulation of the pertinent figures taken from official sources showing that in the time referred to the tonnage handled by the railroads of the country has increased more than fourfold, while the rate per ton per mile for that service now is only about one-third the rate of 1873. The table follows:

Miles of railroad.	Miles built from 1873 to 1893.	Miles Earnings Tons fr't ton per mile moved.	1873.	1893.	1873.	1893.	1873.	1893.

A HEAVY LOSS.

How It Was Sustained on a Life Insurance Policy.

On the 18th day of December, 1892, Mr. Luigi M. de Jesi, a civil engineer, residing in the City of Mexico, took out a policy for $10,000 on his life in an American life insurance company, having its headquarters in New York city. It was proposed to him at the time by the company either that the policy be issued with the premiums payable in United States currency, in which case the $10,000 would be payable in the same currency, or that he have it issued payable in Mexican money, the premiums also being payable in Mexican money. As a Mexican silver dollar was at that time worth 89 cents in American currency, and as he was living and doing business in Mexico, he chose the latter course.

Mr. De Jesi died March 16, 1895, and the claim was paid by the life insurance company, as it agreed to do, in 10,000 Mexican dollars. The widow in the meantime had removed to her former home in Pittsburgh, Pa., where she now lives. To use the money she was obliged to convert it into United States currency. She did so and received exactly $5,347.60 for her $10,000. The purchase by Mexico of its free silver policy has resulted in the steady decline of their dollar in value, and instead of receiving even $8,900, which she would have done had her husband died the first year, she received but $5,347.60.

Every dollar paid by her husband on this policy was intrinsically worth more than had he paid American silver dollars, as the Mexican silver dollar contains 417½ grains of silver with a fineness of 972 while the American dollar contains but 412½ grains with a fineness of 900. The explanation of this widow's loss lies in the fact that the American silver dollar was backed up by the custom and established policy of the government to keep all of its dollars equal in value to gold dollars, whereas the government of Mexico is committed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver as it is proposed to commit this country. Should this government adopt this Mexican basis of currency, what guarantee have the holders of policies in American life insurance companies that their policies will not depreciate and be paid at 53 cents on the dollar as this was?

THE REASON WHY

The American Dollar Is Worth Two Mexican Dollars.

So many references have been made to the difference between the purchasing power of the present American standard silver dollar, the product of limited coinage and the parity law, and the Mexican dollar, that what will certainly be accepted as an authentic opinion will be useful to the people.

WANTED—CONFIDENCE.

Mr. McCormick Knows What Bryan's Election Would Mean.

Cyrus H. McCormick has called on the 7,500 agents of the harvester machine company for information as to the political outlook in the districts which they cover. His reason for doing this is as follows:
We have never before been so at a loss to lay out our plans and work for the next season as we are at this time. If we thought the country would go for unlimited coinage of silver we should not wish to run our shops for more than one-half their capacity. We do not know of any better way to get reliable information in advance than to ask each one of our 7,500 agents for their honest expressions.

There are thousands of other manufacturers who are in the same predicament that Mr. McCormick is. Many of them are Democrats, as he is, but all of them feel satisfied, as he does, that the election of Bryan, the panic which will follow and the slump to the silver standard will have such an effect on business that it will be impossible for them to market half their usual product.

All men who are not manufacturing for immediate delivery hesitate about employing the customary number of men and filling their storehouses with goods the demand for which will be reduced fully one-half if Bryan is elected.

That is why so many mills and factories are running on half time or are closed altogether, and why there are so many men who have no work or only occasional work. Distrust, lack of confidence, fear of what November may bring forth, have deadened the demand for labor.
This letter of Mr. McCormick is addressed to his agents, and not to his workmen. It is a business letter and not a political letter. But the men who work for him here, and all other workmen, should read it and appreciate its significance. It shows that Mr. McCormick, looking at the election solely from a business standpoint, is satisfied that he will have work for only half his force if Bryan wins. That is the way all the manufacturers feel.

DEMOCRATIC papers should compare notes before publishing estimates of Bryan's crowds. The Wheeling papers say he spoke to 10,000 people in that city yesterday, and the Pittsburgh Post announces the number as 40,000.

ALL the indications point to a triumph for the whole Democratic ticket in this county. The masses of the people are aroused as they never were before.—Lisbon Patriot.

THE NEWS REVIEW owes its readers an apology. In the rush and hurry of making up the forms last evening two articles were placed under the wrong heads. Many there were who read of the danger at the West End culvert in the head, and found themselves learning of the pumps at the water station being at a standstill before they had gone far into the article. Mistakes will occur, but one similar to this will not occur again.

MAJOR MCKINLEY has fallen into the habit of saying just what he means in very few words. "We propose in this contest to protect our money from de-basement, and with the same votes to protect our industries from foreign competition," is the way he put it to a big crowd of admirers yesterday. How much better than the beautiful nothings Mr. Bryan gave his hearers in Wheeling.

PER CAPITA CIRCULATION.

When a Bryanite has exhausted every other argument, and knows not where to turn for words to meet his gold opponent he will invariably declare we must have more money, the per capita circulation in this country is not enough to carry on our business. Let us see.

The per capita circulation of the United States is at present $21.10, just $15.55 more than the per capita circulation of the world. It is $3.19 more than the per capita circulation of countries on a gold basis, and a little over $16.80 more than the per capita of silver countries.

Gold is not in use in those countries using the silver standard, yet their per capita circulation of silver is but $2.32, the remainder of their money being paper.

The money used in this country at present is good money, a money which is worth as much to the laborer as it is to the millionaire. More of it would be received with delight, but we want no cheap money, a money not worth the same at all times and in all places.

PUGNACIOUS BISMARCK.

How He Almost Precipitated a Second Conflict With France.

The rapidity with which France was repairing the disasters of the war and the ease with which she met the financial obligations it imposed on her astonished Europe and perturbed the statesmen at Berlin. Her military force was being judiciously reconstructed, and it seemed also as if the calculation of Prince Bismarck as regards the constitution of her internal government might be falsified. The German chancellor desired to see established what a Russian diplomatist happily described as a republic dissolvante.

Notwithstanding his efforts to bring this result about and the impracticable character of the Comte de Chambord, which rendered the restoration of monarchy for a time impossible, there were indications that a stable system of government would be founded which would enable France to recover a strong position in the community of nations. Prince Bismarck was resolved this should not be, and suddenly, in May, 1875, Prince Bismarck, the present chancellor of the German empire, who was then ambassador in Paris, appeared at the French foreign office and asked for explanations regarding the scheme for the reconstruction of the French army. The Duc de Broglie, in his interesting account of the embassy of M. de Gontaut-Biron to Berlin, describes the consternation which followed this attempt to provoke another quarrel with France. Another war seemed inevitable. England and Russia interfered to prevent it. Prince Bismarck could easily have disregarded the remonstrances of both.

England would certainly not take up arms if he paid no attention to her representations, and Russia would have thought twice before incurring the hostility of Germany in view of coming events in the Balkan peninsula.

The fact, though not generally known, is that the greatest influence in preventing war was that of the Grand Duke of Baden. While the relations with France were becoming complicated the Emperor William happened to be staying at the Meinau, the seat of the Grand Duke of Baden, on the Lake of Constance. One morning the grand duchess, who was the emperor's daughter, came into her father's study and showed him a number of extracts from the press. He perceived at once that the country was drifting into war, and after a consultation with his son-in-law, who was strongly opposed to provoking a war, which, however successful for the moment, would have been most disastrous to the name and character of Germany, the aged monarch went off that very evening to Berlin, and Prince Bismarck had to beat a retreat.—Quarterly Review.

Chap Money Very Dear.

In his speech to the delegation of colored citizens from Cleveland, Major McKinley uttered another of those pithy, pointed and briefly put truths for which he is fast becoming famous when he said:

"We have a great country, and we must keep it so. We want neither cheap money nor cheap labor. Nothing can be cheap that injures our laboring people."

The nickel cent was authorized Feb. 21, 1857, and its coinage was begun the same year.

A Nation of Medicine Takers.

It is an accepted fact that the American people are the greatest users of medicines of one sort or another on the face of the earth. Imaginary ills make up a large part of man's earthly troubles, and some people need only to read the vivid description of some chronic disease, and they are at once victims to the complaint in question. Many patent medicine venders make use of this peculiarity and lead some people to believe that their tired feeling comes from their blood not being rich and red. Millions would be saved and our general health would be better if we would take medicine only when really needed and then get a remedy specially prepared for the disease with which we are suffering.

As an illustration, when you have sore throat, there can't be any imagination about it. Your throat hurts; probably is covered with white ulcerated spots, and you know you need a remedy. Use good judgment. Get a cure put up for this one purpose. There is such a remedy. Tonsiline is its name, and it is a wonder in its field. Being put up for this one class of diseases, it cures quickly, surely, and many times as if by magic. No family can afford to be without Tonsiline in the home, as it is a certain cure for Sore Throat, Sore Mouth, Croup and Quinsy. Ask your neighbors who have used it. All druggists sell Tonsiline, 35 and 50 cents.

AND HIS CAUSE OF DISHONOR.

Some of the Men Who Will Not Follow His Flag of Repudiation and Anarchy, Though They Have Long Been Prominent in the Councils of the Democratic Party—Men Whose Opinions Are Worthy of Respect.

To publish a list of all the prominent Democrats who refuse to support Bryan would require many columns of a newspaper. It would be a roll-call of half the men who have won fame and power in the service of the Democratic party, and an account of their work in politics would be nearly a history of the Democratic side of American public affairs for the last 25 years.

It is worth while to call attention to a few of the Democrats who have refused to follow the majority of the Chicago convention into the devious ways of dishonor and ruin. Their party services can be imagined from the offices which they have held or which they are holding now. Among the most notable of the men who deny that Bryanism is Democracy and silently or actively repudiate and antagonize the Bryanese ticket and platform are the following famous Democrats:

Grover Cleveland, president of the United States, New York.
John G. Carlisle, secretary of the treasury, Kentucky.

This list is the merest beginning. It does not touch the vast array of Democrats in all parts of the country who oppose the Popocratic candidate and his platform.

Artifice is weak. It is the work of mere man, in the imbecility and self-distrust of his mimic understanding.

HE IS DEAD WRONG.

Freight Rates Upon the Railroads Have Greatly Declined.

Mr. Bryan's statement in Madison Square garden that the rates of transportation on the railroads since 1873 had not declined as much as the value of the products they carry has evoked another convincing denial from Mr. Henry W. Poor, the widely known statistician. In proof of Mr. Bryan's gross inaccuracy Mr. Poor submits a tabulation of the pertinent figures taken from official sources showing that in the time referred to the country has increased more than fourfold, while the rate per ton per mile for that service now is only about one-third the rate of 1873. The table follows:

Miles of railroad, built from 1873 to 1893	Miles Earnings from freight, moved, ton per mile	Average rate per ton per mile
1873. 70,208	4,097,839,025.508	188,000,000 2.210

1886. 130,379	8,018,550,350,054	482,245,354 1.042
1887. 140,257	12,858,695,626,228	553,074,753 1.084
1888. 150,190	6,912,530,738,728	560,337,803 0.977
1889. 161,353	8,184,098,982,381	619,166,830 0.970
1890. 166,098	5,346,784,821,733	601,344,437 0.927
1891. 170,798	4,057,734,181,910	704,808,039 0.929
1892. 173,138	4,419,794,536,508	780,005,011 0.941
1893. 177,408	2,277,878,494,688	757,464,490 0.883
1894. 179,798	730,477,459,674	714,747 0.894
1895. 181,021	1,628,748,784,461	708,790,888 0.839

With this decrease of two-thirds in the transportation rates wheat has only declined one-half in price, while many other commodities used by the laboring man have fallen in about the same ratio with the freight rate. The facts show, therefore, that what Bryan misrepresented as an injury to the farmers has in fact been to their benefit. Although the fall in prices of commodities has been great the fall in the cost of transportation has been greater. Capitalists have been the only sufferers, and the dividends paid on the total railroad capital of the United States, stock that aggregates more than five billions, has fallen to only one and one-half per cent. The complete reversal of Mr. Bryan's argument is the usual fate that befalls that to which when he so forgets his role as to attempt to deal in facts.—Chicago Tribune.

A HEAVY LOSS.

How It Was Sustained on a Life Insurance Policy.

On the 18th day of December, 1882, Mr. Luigi M. de Jesi, a civil engineer, residing in the City of Mexico, took out a policy for $10,000 on his life in an American life insurance company, having its headquarters in New York city. It was proposed to him at the time by the company either that the policy be issued with the premiums payable in United States currency, in which case the $10,000 would be payable in the same currency, or that he have it issued payable in Mexican money, the premiums also being payable in Mexican money. As a Mexican silver dollar was at that time worth 89 cents in American currency, and as he was living and doing business in Mexico, he chose the latter course.

Mr. De Jesi died March 16, 1895, and the claim was paid by the life insurance company, as it agreed to do, in 10,000 Mexican dollars. The widow in the meantime had removed to her former home in Pittsburgh, Pa., where she now lives. To use the money she was obliged to convert it into United States currency. She did so and received exactly $5,347.80 for her $10,000. The pursuance by Mexico of its free silver policy has resulted in the steady decline of their dollar in value, and instead of receiving even $8,900, which she would have done had her husband died the first year, she received but $5,347.80.

Every dollar paid by her husband on this policy was intrinsically worth more than had he paid American silver dollars, as the Mexican silver dollar contains 417½ grains of silver with a fineness of 972 while the American dollar contains but 412½ grains with a fineness of 900. The explanation of this widow's loss lies in the fact that the American silver dollar was backed up by the custom and established policy of the government to keep all of its dollars equal in value to gold dollars, whereas the government of Mexico is committed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver as it is proposed to commit this country. Should this government adopt this Mexican basis of currency, what guarantee have the holders of policies in American life insurance companies that their policies will not depreciate and be paid at 53 cents on the dollar as this was?

THE REASON WHY

The American Dollar Is Worth Two Mexican Dollars.

So many references have been made to the difference between the purchasing power of the present American standard silver dollar, the product of limited coinage and the parity law, and the Mexican dollar, that what will certainly be accepted as an authentic opinion will be useful to the people.

WILL REED.

In The North American Review for June, 1895, the Mexican minister, Senor Romero, writes as follows:

"It is rather puzzling and bewildering to some travelers who go from this country to Mexico to see that a United States silver dollar, containing less silver bullion than a Mexican silver dollar, was exchanged there for two Mexican silver dollars, when pure silver was at about 50 cents an ounce. But in such an exchange the Mexican silver dollar is sold for the price of the bullion it contains, while the United States silver dollar is the representative of a gold dollar and is, therefore, merchandise bought to pay debts in the United States or Europe."

The United States silver dollar is the representative of a gold dollar and has the purchasing power of a gold dollar by reason of the credit of the government which adds to the value of the silver bullion a conventional value, raising 53 cents to 100 cents. This is possible only under limited coinage of silver. If we go to the silver standard our silver dollar, like that of Mexico, will cease to be the representative of a gold dollar and will buy no more proportionally than the value of the silver bullion it contains. That is, in Mexico itself, where it now commands two dollars' worth of commodities, it will be worth less than the Mexican silver dollar, although two Mexican dollars are given for it in exchange at the present time.

WANTED—CONFIDENCE.

Mr. McCormick Knows What Bryan's Election Would Mean.

Cyrus H. McCormick has called on the 7,500 agents of the harvester machine company for information as to the political outlook in the districts which they cover. His reason for doing this is as follows:

We have never before been so at a loss to lay out our plans and work for the next season as we are at this time. If we thought the country would go for unlimited coinage of silver we should not wish to run our shops for more than one half their capacity. We do not know of any better way to get reliable information in advance than to ask each one of our 7,500 agents for their honest expressions.

There are thousands of other manufacturers who are in the same predicament that Mr. McCormick is. Many of them are Democrats, as he is, but all of them feel satisfied, as he does, that the election of Bryan, the panic which will follow and the slump to the silver standard will have such an effect on business that it will be impossible for them to market half their usual product.

All men who are not manufacturing for immediate delivery hesitate about employing the customary number of men and filling their storehouses with goods the demand for which will be reduced fully one-half if Bryan is elected.

That is why so many mills and factories are running on half time or are closed altogether, and why there are so many men who have no work or only occasional work. Distrust, lack of confidence, fear of what No. 11 may bring forth, have deadened the demand for labor.

This letter of Mr. McCormick is addressed to his agents, and not to his workmen. It is a business letter and not a political letter. But the men who work for him here, and all other workmen, should read it and appreciate its significance. It shows that Mr. McCormick, looking at the election solely from a business standpoint, is satisfied that he will have work for only half his force if Bryan wins. That is the way all the manufacturers feel.

A prominent East End citizen who has always been a Prohibitionist has renounced his party, and is doing all he can to swell the majority for Major McKinley.

The rainy weather this week has placed all roads leading to the city in a wretched state. Wagons in going to East End at some points sink almost to the hubs.

Miss Allie Davidson last evening entertained a number of friends at her home on Fifth street. The Wab quartet were present and rendered some pleasing selections.

An East End business man, who has been bored times innumerable by arguments on the silver question, has posted a sign in his store which reads: "Don't argue politics."

Owing to a misunderstanding the directors of the library were announced to meet last evening. The time set for the meeting is this evening, and a full attendance is desired.

The annual meeting and banquet of the Phoenix club will be held in the rooms of the organization next Friday evening. A number of members, added during the year, will be initiated.

Lew Anglinbaugh, of the Steubenville Athletic club, was selected last evening to referee the football game between the Eclipse and Bethany clubs, which is being played this afternoon at West End park.

Capt. Ellwood Pusey went to Parkersburg this morning, to make arrangements to have the ferry boat taken to the dock at that place next week, and given a general overhauling and repairing. The wheel of the craft is almost worn out, and will be replaced with a new one.

In a window at the NEWS REVIEW office hangs a picture which has attracted more attention than any illustration bearing on the campaign yet seen in the city. Hundreds have looked upon it during the past few days, and if you have not seen it, just glance at it as you go by.

An annoying experience was that of a well known clerk of the city. His family was out of town, and yesterday morning he shut up the house forgetting his keys were on the inside. When he desired to enter last night he found he was locked out, and was compelled to walk through the rain to a hotel.

The International band will this evening make its initial appearance on the streets. The members of the band, with one exception, are McKinley and Hobart supporters, and as the free silver man in their organization cannot vote at this election, they hope to have him converted before another campaign rolls around.

W. A. Bunting, of Bunting & Co., returned to Pittsburgh today after a business visit to this city. Although the gentleman has resided there for 36 years he was never before in this place, and was greatly pleased with what he saw in the potteries and with the people. He is an enthusiastic McKinley man, and is only sorry the election of a president does not depend entirely on Pennsylvania.

If unable to do so your eyes are defective and should have immediate attention. When the eyes become tired from reading or writing, or if the letters look blurred and run together, it is a sure sign that your eyes are defective. The lenses sold in the cheap shops are of inferior quality and will result in positive injury from the constant strain upon the muscles of accommodation in trying to correct the defect in the glass.

DeLeon's Comedians Made a Hit at Spring-

Black's Opera House opened last night with DeLeon's comedians, one of the strongest repertoire companies on the road. The house was packed. The "Son of Monte Cristo" is a beautiful comedy drama, and was artistically produced.
Frank DeLeon, a Springfield favorite, was very funny. Miss Gay Rhea as Eugenia is a clever and painstaking young actress. Mr. Labadie as the son was all that could be asked. The entire company is one of unusual merit, and should pack the house at every performance.—Springfield Republic Times.

Queer English.

There is a signboard above the gateway of the Eye infirmary, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, which tells us that "when this gate is closed urgent cases and accidents must ring the front doorbell."

About the middle of this century a notice appeared on the Tynemouth sands to the effect (we quote from memory),
"Visitors are cautioned against bathing within 100 yards of this spot, several persons having been drowned here recently by order of the authorities."—
Notes and Queries.

Dead as a Doornail.

"As dead as a doornail" at first seems utterly senseless, but becomes lively and picturesque when we remember that knockers were once universally used. Beneath the knocker, in order to prevent disfiguring the door, a large nail or bolt was driven. An impatient caller, waiting for the door to be opened, would frequently use the knocker with great force, and the irresponsivness of the nail gave rise to this expression.

A Dangerous Musical Instrument.

It has been discovered that the oboe is the most dangerous instrument that is played on—dangerous to the player.
A profound German medical authority says that it is doubtful if a healthy man playing any instrument in a correct method ever suffers through playing upon any reed or brass instrument, but those who have any weakness of the heart or circulation may be injured by playing any wind instrument.

As it is quite easy for a musician to inspire between the phrases of the music, but impossible for him to expire without overblowing his instrument, it follows that the instruments that require the least expenditure of breath are the more injurious for the reason that the player must hold his breath for long intervals.

This is the case with both the oboe and the flute. The charge is probably true that the curious tickling of the lips that is caused by the double reed mouthpiece of the instrument frequently causes cancer.

The eminent scientist who has discovered these things about the comparatively harmless oboe should now ascertain whether accordion and concertina playing does not superinduce muscular paralysis in an aggravated and incurable form.—New York Journal.

Henry James.

It is said that Henry James, the novelist, maintains that single blessedness is the only condition for an artist's genius, giving as a reason that the details of domestic life exhausts fine nerves and delicate mental fiber. He confirms his theory by living in bachelor chambers in London, entertaining his friends charmingly, and in turn being entertained by them, and yet, although surrounded by bright, attractive women, his heart still holds its allegiance to self.
